UK National Commission for UNESCO

UNESCO (United Nations Education, Science and Culture Organization) was formed in 1945 with the express mission that “since wars begin in the minds of men and women, so in the minds of men and women the defences of peace must be built”.

The UK National Commission for UNESCO (UKNC) is a constitutional part of the UK's membership of UNESCO, primarily funded by the UK Government. As an independent body, the UKNC brings together a network of voluntary experts from across the UK in education, sciences, culture and communication. It provides expert advice to the Government on UNESCO-related matters, develops UK input into UNESCO policymaking, and promotes reform within UNESCO. It works with the UK's network of UNESCO Designations, the UK academic community, UK civil society, and the global network of National Commissions for UNESCO, to contribute to UNESCO's international aims to advance global peace, sustainable development, intercultural dialogue, and poverty eradication.

A key objective of our delivery framework is to ensure that UK society feels the benefits of UNESCO membership. The UKNC does this by supporting our network of land-based UNESCO Sites of natural, cultural and built heritage. The UK's Network of 60 UNESCO Sites are areas recognised by UNESCO to be of world-class value to the people of the UK and internationally. The UKNC has a Board of pro bono Non-Executive Directors, a Chief Executive/Secretary-General, a small Secretariat, and short-term task groups.

PURPOSE OF THE POST

Following the successful delivery of its first Local to Global Project (2022-2024), in January 2025 the National Lottery Heritage Fund awarded the UKNC a grant to build on its first round of resilience funding focused on supporting the UK's network of UNESCO-designated natural, cultural and built heritage sites, (Biosphere Reserves, Creative Cities, Global Geoparks, and World Heritage Sites). The new Project (2025-2026) will explore devolved power sharing among UNESCO Sites to help build their resilience and adaptability through openness and collaboration in accordance with the National Lottery Heritage Fund Project Approved Purposes.

This is an important and exciting role in administrating and coordinating the successful delivery of the approved purposes of the UKNC's Grant Agreement with the National Lottery Heritage Fund. You will be line managed by the Programme Lead and support the ambitions of the project by coordinating events and communications across a national network of natural, cultural and built heritage sites. An essential function of this role is to log and report on project progress to key stakeholders at the National Lottery Heritage Fund, the UKNC's core team and board of non-executive directors. You will be highly organised, confident in collating reports and budgets and have experience of the demands of National Lottery Heritage Funded projects.

WORKING WITH

- Members of the small UKNC team, including the Programme Lead, the Head of Policy Research and Communications, and the Communications and Marketing Manager.
- Coordinators and stakeholders of selected UK UNESCO Designations.
- Expert Consultants working to analyse stakeholder mapping, audience development, fundraising, digital skills and website development, and evaluation.

MAIN DUTIES

- Administration of the planning and delivery of a national level high-profile project, of international interest, to support the resilience of the Network of the UK's UNESCO Designations and the UKNC.
